Newport office - or home-based throughout Wales

The Valuation Tribunal for Wales is seeking to appoint up to two Tribunal Clerks. Tribunal Clerks provide support services to the members of the tribunal. A major function is to provide hearing-room advice on local taxation law in Wales (Council Tax and Business Rates). Training on this will be given.

We are open to applications from university graduates or people with local revenues experience and/or qualifications. Successful applicants will be appointed to a point on the pay scale which is appropriate to their current qualifications and knowledge.

If you live in or near Newport, your workplace will be our Newport office. If you live elsewhere, you will be home-based. Regular travel will be required throughout Wales, and this will necessitate overnight stays away from home. The Tribunal will pay your travelling expenses. An annual car user allowance (£1,239) is also payable.
